GOLDEN ROCK INN, NEVIS

With views of the Caribbean, this hotel is a collaboration between the Miami-based landscape architect Raymond Jungles (a disciple of the Brazilian designer Roberto Burle Marx) and its artist-owners, Brice and Helen Marden. A tropical hilltop Xanadu, the grounds contain a labyrinth of paths, layered in vegetation, with modest cottages tucked into the landscape. (About $210.)

Nevis's Golden Rock Inn, on an old sugar plantation, features Raymond Jungles's abundant plantings. Marion Brenner
